Reasons for Allowance

1. Claims 20-28, 33 and 34 are allowed.

Claim 20

The primary reason for allowance of the claim 20 is the inclusion of saturating a transistor in response to an output of the comparator when the comparator measures a voltage at the second input greater than a voltage at the first input; and locating battery pack terminals at respective opposing ends of the series of the plurality of the cells, and connecting respective opposing leads of a charging circuit to the terminals at predetermined times so as to charge the plurality of cells.

Claims 21, 22 and 24-28 depend from claim 20 and therefore are allowable for at least the same reasons noted above with respect to claim 20.

Claim 23

The primary reason for allowance of the claim 23 is the inclusion of saturating a transistor in response to an output of the comparator when the comparator measures a voltage at the second input greater than a voltage at the first input; monitoring each of the cells based upon an input connected across each of the cells for measuring a charge of the each of the cells respectively, and providing a bridge around the each of the cells, the bridge including a respective bypass resistor and a respective switch and closing the respective switch when the charge of the each of the cells equals a maximum value so as to shunt charge current around the each of the cells through the respective bypass resistor.

Claim 33

The primary reason for allowance of the claim 33 is the inclusion of an implanted rechargeable battery pack including a battery pack having a plurality of series-arranged cells, having a bridge connected around a first cell, including a bypass resistor in series with a switch, and a cell monitor/regulator having an input connected across the first cell for measuring a charge of the first cell, wherein the cell monitor/regulator closes the switch when a charge of the first cell equals a maximum value.

Claim 34 depends from claim 33 and therefore is allowable for at least the same reasons noted above with respect to claim 33.

Any comments considered necessary by applicant must be submitted no later than the payment of the issue fee and to avoid processing delays, should preferably accompany the issue fee. Such submissions should be clearly labeled " Comments on Statement of Reasons for Allowance."
